

In Tune Terms and Conditions (music tuition)

Why terms and conditions?

This is a way to clarify what our agreement really is; look closer at the “what ifs” and avoid misunderstandings and unnecessary indignation.

This agreement is for you as a private music student. In Tune has other arrangements for other activities.

In Tune's student quota is filling up and we therefore only offer half-hour lessons and in certain cases 45 minute lessons. The price is £22 for 45 minutes and £15 per half an hour.

In Tune offers lessons with more than one student at a time. An extra pound per extra student will be added due to extra planning and record keeping.

In case of ...

If you cancel your lesson in good time (24 hours or more prior to the lesson) In Tune will not charge you anything.

If you fail to notify In Tune within 24 hours prior to the start of the lesson we will charge you £5 as we then will not be able to get another student in with such short notice.

If you don't turn up to the lesson we will charge you the full price.

In Tune invoices all its students. Invoices need to be paid within 30 days or the lessons will be suspended and an extra administrative fee will be added. Unpaid bills will be taken to court 120 days after its due date.

If you arrive late for a lesson we will charge you the full amount anyway.

You can stop being a student at any time (as long as you are not booked in for another lesson). In Tune also has the right to stop teaching you. Should this be the case we will give you a full explanation and one months notice.

Lancaster 08/05/2015

For In Tune

Fredrik Holm