Music Tuition Terms and Conditions Including Data protection and Safe Guarding

Why terms and conditions?

This is a way to clarify what our agreement really is; look closer at the “what ifs” and avoid misunderstandings and unnecessary indignation.

This agreement is for you as a private music student. In Tune has other arrangements for other activities.

The price per half hour lesson is currently £15.

In Tune offers lessons with more than one student at a time. This could be a cost-effective way for you to share lessons, however, an extra pound per extra student will be added due to extra planning and record keeping.

The students will be invoiced every half-term.

In case of ...

If a student fails to turn up without notice the student will be charged the full fee.

A late cancellation fee will be charged if lessons are cancelled within 24 hours of the lesson.

The invoice needs to be paid within 30 days or the lessons will be suspended and an extra administrative fee will be added.

You are welcome to stop the lessons at any-time and In Tune also has the right to stop lessons with a weeks’ notice. An explanation to why will of course be provided.

Personal information regarding students such as their name, date of birth and telephone number will not be shared with any third party and all the information will be decrypted and kept on a password protected single laptop.

Anyone working with children at In Tune will be DBS checked and no private information will be shared unless a suspected safe-guarding issue would appear. In such a case valid information will be shared with parents and possibly other legally acclaimed authorities..
